

Dear Passenger:

The information provided during your booking inquiry has prompted Cathay Pacific Airways to request a MEDA (Passenger Medical Clearance) form to be completed by you and your treating doctor.

Some passengers may need special medical consideration when they travel. This may involve clearance for fitness to fly after a recent illness, medical procedure or surgery; if you have an existing medical condition where there is reasonable doubt that you can complete the flight safely without requiring extraordinary medical assistance during the flight; a request for use of a passenger's own medical equipment during the flight or a need for in-flight oxygen.

The purpose of the MEDA form is to enable Cathay Pacific, in conjunction with your doctor, to ensure that you are able to travel safely. Part 1 of the MEDA form is to be completed by you, the passenger, while Part 2 is to be completed by the treating doctor in English.

Please ensure that the MEDA form is returned to your local Cathay Pacific Reservation office at least two full working days prior to your scheduled departure date, to minimise the risk that you may not be able to travel on your preferred flight. Once Cathay Pacific receives the form and it is assessed by our Aviation Medicine team, a member of Cathay Pacific staff may contact you to discuss your medical clearance.

Please note that you will have to bear any associated charges made by your doctor for completing this form.

By providing the information requested in the MEDA form, you are waiving the confidentiality of the information disclosed by your treating doctor. In order to ensure your requests are conveyed to the relevant connecting airlines, Cathay Pacific will also disclose the contents of the MEDA form to all carriers associated with this ticket.

Cathay Pacific wishes to ensure that all its passengers fly safely; therefore it is advised that you provide all relevant medical information before traveling.

If you have any questions relating to the MEDA form, please direct it to your local Cathay Pacific Reservations office. Thank you for your cooperation.
